This is designed to prevent us from taking justice into our own hands and killing media members and tyrannical governors and kicking things off before, rather than after, Biden gets control of the military.

No, she is saying that the 9/11 attacks weren't able to be prevented by the Bush administration because the 9/11 report blamed the Clinton administration from not starting the transition process soon enough. Which is ironic because that was a BS talking point from Republicans. Bush was in office for NINE months when 9/11 happened. He was also given a report from the FBI that an attack was immanent and did nothing about. Again, nothing to see hear but more CNN hypocrisy.

Imho strong regulations against political bias should be enforced on the media by the government, with several committees of citizens and academics that help to make reports when a suspect media bias is detected, the media should be merely informative and have dedicated segments to showcase both political opinions, criticisms etc, based on real data, otherwise i don't see how could our politics, media and society advance faster.

They're just saying that since Trump hasn't let Biden transition and get all the intel briefings that it'll be like Bush not getting into office fast enough to stop 911. They mention it was in the 911 report. The recording is of them cooking up their legacy media fear porn. I'm sure all legacy media has similar calls to drum up panic in the sheep. How anyone still watches this propaganda is beyond me

This actually could be huge. Let's remember that the vote stealing happened in real time, with all of counting in battle ground states stopping and starting up again at the same time. Let's also remember they were trying to call states early for Biden while doing everything in their power to not call states that were obviously going for Trump. Would not be suprised if the top brass of the major MSM outlets were in the loop as to what was going to happen, and that they would be needed to help sculpt and smooth over the narrative in order to pull it off.

Yup. Stephanie Becker is manufacturing consent within the consent factory managers by saying what she just said. Or she's just a retarded lefty...which reminds me, this whole think could be over a lot quicker if we just assumed that the left doesn't have a master plan and assume they are idiots that need to be rounded up.

Good. If the news gets out to the broader public, the MSM, and by extension Joe Biden and the Democrats, are fuck.
Wait a minute, I just had a thought: was the Barr story run as counter to this? That makes a lot more sense now.

it's just more evidence of something that everyone already knows. no one will face any consequences because of it. the people who watch CNN will continue to watch CNN and the people who don't, won't start. everything is the same. not even a ripple.

what, desperately looking back at your notes to see why you aren't blending in? your execution is inevitable. there's no escape, you 3.0 GPA (aka "too stupid to actually deserve to be here but we can't let you fail because then it'd look bad for us") ivy league desk-riding mouth-breathing fucking retard. you are singlehandedly responsible for the downfall of your entire employer. then again, you probably lack the ability to even have introspection and reflect on your actions. complete and total fucking idiot, and it's entirely your fault.
